

ART JOURNAL CHALLENGE FOR APRIL (Spring Beauty)

Posted by nrjanitz - 2014/04/12 14:43

Happy Spring ART JOURNALERS!!!

What does the phrase "Spring Beauty" mean to you? How can you journal about this?

For me Spring beauty is...

the warm wind on my face
the sound of the birds in the morning
the way spring smells
all the beauty sprouting from the ground
the sun on my face
getting my bike out of winter storage and taking that first ride!
the way my cat sits in the windowsill
opening up all the windows after the LONG WINTER
a wonderful refreshing April shower

What kinds of ways does Spring speak to your soul?

Now that we have some thought starters, I wanted to share with you a mixed media background that I am currently working on. I just started it but I thought it may be fun for you to add your own touches to for this month's challenge? I also created a "Spring Beauty" word art for you.

You can download it here

I can't wait to see what your beautiful creative brains think up for this one.

Don't forget to post to the Art Journal Challenge gallery and then come back to link us up!

Now where is that bike of mine? :blink:

Thank you, Nancie. Spring is just beginning around me. The flower images were from last year Spring. This year, there is just a touch of green in the grass. The Spirea will be a couple weeks more, hopefully. Although, snow is forecast for this evening.

My entry is now posted.

Again, thank you for keeping this going.
