

how to make a thin frame around your photo or layo

Posted by faith - 2014/12/20 16:08

I know I used to know how to do this, and I know I have done it before. But now I can't remember. I think maybe Earl had a lesson where he explained it. I want to put a thin frame around my image and can't remember how to do it.

Thanks

Sharon

=====

Re:how to make a thin frame around your photo or layo

Posted by Earl - 2014/12/21 01:47

Hi Sharon,

If you are interested in just a single stroke type of border, go to Edit > Stroke. In the dialog select size and color for the stroke. Then, if you select Outside, you will get rounded corner on the stroke. If you select Inside, you will get square corners.

However, if you want to make a more interesting border, go to my blog at <http://www.earlkdesign.com/2010/10/other-days-with-earl-episode-11-stroke.html>

and download the turtotial.

Earl

=====

Re:how to make a thin frame around your photo or layo

Posted by faith - 2014/12/21 15:33

Thank you Earl.

=====

Re:how to make a thin frame around your photo or layo

Posted by a_c_monroe@hotmail.com - 2015/01/27 13:31

Thanks for all that you do for us, Earl. You are appreciated.

=====

Re:how to make a thin frame around your photo or layo

Posted by SusanD - 2015/01/27 16:18

Earl,

Greatly appreciated! Also, you are so kind to share your knowledge and help us!

Thank you!

SusanD

=====

Re:how to make a thin frame around your photo or layo

Posted by pinewoodtoo - 2015/01/28 12:11

Earl,

I want to be you when I grow up. You have so much knowledge. Thanks. ~Ann

=====

Re:how to make a thin frame around your photo or layo

Posted by Chrystal - 2015/04/29 10:32

Ok I have another question. :)

Once you "clip" an item to another (say, in a template), is there any way to then add a "stroke" to outline it? it seems to stroke the underneath layer and doesn't show.

Is that confusing?? :)

=====

Re:how to make a thin frame around your photo or layo

Posted by Earl - 2015/04/29 19:15

Thanks for all the kind words everyone.

Chrystal asked a question about stroking an image that has been clipped in a mask. I will make a quick video and post the link to the video once it is up and available. There are probably more ways to do it, but this is one way. It is very easy to do once you see how you can do it.

Back when the video is posted.

Earl

=====

Re:how to make a thin frame around your photo or layo

Posted by Earl - 2015/04/29 20:09

Click on this link to watch the video. It is 6.5 minutes long.

<https://vimeo.com/126441202>

Earl

=====

Re:how to make a thin frame around your photo or layo

Posted by Chrystal - 2015/04/30 13:08

Earl, you are amazing. Thank you!!

=====