

Did You Know? RSS Feed of New Products!

Written by Jessica Sprague
Monday, 06 April 2009 19:00

We get asked a lot whether people can be notified whenever a new template or kit, or class becomes available here. You can subscribe to the Notify list for individual products on the product detail pages, but how about being notified whenever anything new comes along? The answer is, yes! You can!

If you're looking for information on when new products become available, the Latest Products RSS feed is just for you!

You'll need to have an RSS reader (if you have a Gmail account, the Google Reader is part of your account), and then just click on this link:

Subscribe to the RSS Feed for Latest Products at JessicaSprague.com

New products will appear inside your RSS reader, and then you can come to the store and check them out!